

Kids' New Favorite Color: Green

One of the mottos of the environmental movement is to shop local, sustainable and organic. With kid-friendly green products from these Bay Area companies, you can add cute and tasty to the list, too.

San Francisco's Peas of Mind has created the perfect toddler convenience food with its organic "puffets," frozen mini casseroles packed with healthy ingredients including veggies, fruit and milk — with no added sugars, artificial flavors or preservatives. These finger foods reheat in two minutes. Even some parents can't keep their hands off! $5.99. Available at grocers including Whole Foods, Andronico's, Mollie Stone's, Draeger's and at www.peasofmind.com.
