

Celebrity mom favorites.

When I look for new products to try out, I like trying things recommended by other moms or family members. Another place we're always hearing about new and exciting products, is from the mouths of celebrity moms. Do you ever find yourself looking these women, like mom of four Brooke Burke, thinking "how does her skin look so amazing"? Yeah, me too. Here's a few products that are favorites among the celebrity moms we see on TV, in the movies, and on the red carpet.

Bethenny Frankel (Reality Star & Founder of Skinny Girl)

I discovered one of Bethenny Frankel's favorite products for her daughter Bryn, on her Pinterest page. Bethenny is no stranger to the healthy eating scene, as it's where her fame stems from, and she loves giving her little girl Peas of Mind meals. These meals can be found at Target, and they have a full serving of veggies, but taste like foods such as nachos and pizza. Yum! The Veggie Wedgies do taste like veggies, so my kiddo will eat them about 50-percent of the time, but the Pull-A-Parts are actually really good. I'm dying to try the pizzas because they have more than one serving of veggies, and they look delicious! Bethenny is a great mom to look up to when it comes to feeding your little one healthy food. She's a big believer in using bribery and having patience when feeding her daughter (as seen in the video below), and it looks like Bryn is eating very healthy!

