

Quick, Healthy and Organic Frozen Puffets with Peas of Mind

FEBRUARY 24, 2009

in ORGANIC BABY FOOD

Sometimes we are busy. Busy parents can easily get lazy – no judgment here. Making baby food, shopping organic and making things from scratch, it can be time consuming and sometimes it helps to have convenient good for your child foods on hand. Peas of Mind is the answer for those meals where you just need some help.

Peas of Mind puffets are organic, frozen, quick, healthy and chalked full of veggies and your child will never know! The puffets are available in many grocery stores and health food stores but also on Amazon. To find a store near you or learn more about how you get your organic puffets online, click here. With Peas of Mind your child will eat their peas, you can relax and not feel guilty over processed unhealthy foods because your child can still eat organic. No worries with Peas of Mind. The founder of the company is a mom just like us and each recipe is designed to meet the growing needs of our youngsters.