

Best Food Products of 2008 from FoodProcessing.com

By: Tanya Taylor, PhD | Nov 24, 2008

Towards the end of the year, I look forward to the "Best Foods of the Year Lists" published by many food magazines & sites. FoodProcessing.com has already published theirs, and quite a few of the products chosen are healthy. They, like myself, seem to be in love with innovations in food technology and their choices reflect that. FoodProcessing.com List of Best Food Products of 2008 includes:

* Kraft Bagel-fuls. Love the technology - but does this really belong on a list of best foods?!

* My M&M's Faces. "One can upload photos on one side of M&M's chocolate candies and a message on the other side of the candy shell"

* TrueNorth snacks. They say, "Raising the profile of nuts." I say, have you seen Emerald Nuts with flavors like Cocoa Roast Almonds and Sea Salt & Pepper Cashews, and Blue Diamond Bold Flavored Almonds?! That's raising the profile of nuts (although maybe they were introduced last year).

* Peas of Mind Nanna's Banana Puffets. "A puffet is a word made up by Peas of Mind owner Jill Litwin, who says the word 'casserole' just sounded hideous when applied to children's food ... made of the four food groups and organic ingredients."
